

Roundtable Discussion

The Internationalization of Higher Education: Converging or Diverging?

This round table will evaluate the internationalization strategies of universities and governments in Europe and North America, with panelists discussing various aspects of change and resiliency in higher education.

Are internationalization policies converging or diverging?

Has internationalization become a primary end for universities, or the means to achieve other objectives like access, equity or cost recovery?

Invited Panelists:

Roopa Desai Trilokekar, Associate Professor of Education, York University
Merli Tamtik, Assistant Professor of Educational Administration, University of Manitoba
Robert Harmsen, Professor of Political Science, University of Luxembourg

Time & Location:

Friday June 7, 10:30-12:30
CK Choi building room 351, UBC Vancouver campus.
Lunch will be served at 12:30.

Please RSVP:

<https://ies.ubc.ca/events/event/ies-talk-the-internationalization-of-higher-education-converging-or-diverging/>